

Follow The Lines

Claudia Scott

My friends ask if I'm doing fine
And if I like this new life of mine
It's been a change, but then, change is good
Keeps you on your toes, makes you a try little harder

We're so lucky, cause we can chose
With more than plenty, there's too much to lose
I followed a path and it took me here
Life is a trip, there's so much to discover

I want to be strong, I want to grow
I want to learn what I do not know
I want to laugh, cry and dream
Follow the lines, and the in-betweens

I look at people, they hurry by
The moving clouds in a changing sky
Grass isn't greener on the other side
I'm happy where I can smell the flowers

Behind the hill, the sun is bright
And daylight always follows night
Anything's better than a long straight line
Ups and downs make me, see clearer

I want to be strong, I want to grow
I want to learn what I do not know
I want to laugh, cry and dream
Follow the lines, and the in-betweens

Life is a wonder, it's made me see
Just how good it has been to me
I've got great friends and a family
And that's what it's all about
Yes, that's what it's all about
